

Florida Center for INCLUSIVE COMMUNITIES

FCIC proudly presents:

Issues & Trends in Developmental Disabilities MHS 6900.002

This interdisciplinary disability studies course will provide students with a background in the history of disabilities and an overview of the impact of disabilities across the life span encompassing social, cultural, and gender influences and embedding implications for policy, legislation, education and services within course content.

This 3 credit course will be taught by interdisciplinary faculty including people with disabilities and family members. The course will meet face-to-face three times monthly with additional class time dedicated to a project of practical application. The instructors will work with students to select relevant projects. Stipends will be available for students that complete course requirements.

Instructors: Bobbie Vaughn, PhD, BC
Liz Perkins, PhD, RNMH

Location: Westside D (adjacent to Florida Mental Health Institute, MHC building)

Time/Day: Tuesdays 5:30-8:00

Questions? Call Bobbie Vaughn
at 813 974-6104

Florida Center for Inclusive Communities

Department of Child & Family Studies
College of Behavioral and Community Sciences • University of South Florida
www.flcic.org

